New Designers, the exhibition for emerging design, is the place to go see the latest design trends and to be the first to discover the UK’s design stars of the future. Now in its 32nd edition, the two-part show continues to deliver new generations of brilliant individuals year on year, ready for businesses and the design savvy public to snap up and set on their creative paths.

Taking place at the Business Design Centre in London over two weeks, New Designers is divided into two Parts across the spectrum of creative disciplines:

Part 1: 28 June – 01 July
- Textiles & Fashion
- Costume Design
- Jewellery & Precious Metalwork
- Ceramics & Glass
- Contemporary Design Crafts

Part 2: 05 – 08 July
- Furniture, Product & Industrial Design
- Spatial Design & Interiors
- Graphic Design
- Illustration & Animation
- Motion & Digital Arts

One Year On
Show highlights include:

- The New Designers Awards, a celebration of creative excellence and innovation on the Wednesday Awards Preview Evenings of each Part of the show (28 June and 05 July). Awards are presented to the year’s most talented graduate designers in partnership with leading brands and organisations. New prizes this year include New Designers Joules Award, New Designers Joseph Joseph Brilliantly Useful Award, New Designers Kenwood Appliances Award, New Designers Sainsbury’s Award, New Designers Tesco’s Award and New Designers Zizzi Fresh Talent Award.

- One Year On a showcase of entrepreneurial designers in their first year of business, returns with its largest edition to date featuring 75 hotly tipped emerging designers. This year One Year On welcomes back jewellery designer, photographer and co-owner of London store Luna & Curious, Rheanna Lingham as its curator.

- Thursday Lates (Part 1: 29 June) and (Part 2: 06 July), offers an after-work programme of talks and panel discussions in collaboration with The House of Peroni and creative online platform The Dots. There will be tours of the show with the Design Museum for both parts of the show, while Design Nation will also run tour of their top picks during Part 2.
