NEW DESIGNERS

New Designers is the longest running and leading design showcase in the country and is widely loved and respected by the industry.

This year it's celebrating its 37th anniversary and will bring together 200 flagship university design courses who will be showcasing 3,000 of the country's finest design students across both weeks. New Designers connects these future leading lights with the industry for creative exchange, collaboration and recruitment.

The event provides an essential wealth of talent to the UK and Global creative industries, with leading businesses using the event as a key source for their company recruitment.

For universities, this is an unrivalled opportunity to promote their courses and demonstrate to the industry the talent their tutors have nourished over the last few years.

New Designers also offers graduates those all-important tips, tools and advice to help them navigate the next steps in their design career.

The background of the entire image is a vibrant, close-up photograph of various colorful threads and fabrics. The threads are in shades of red, yellow, green, blue, and purple, some appearing as loose strands and others as woven fabric sections. The lighting is bright, highlighting the textures and colors of the materials.

'New Designers is a great forum to showcase the amazing talent that emerges from our course every year. It's where we see our students blossom into the creatives of the future.' Rob Newton, Nottingham Trent University

'New Designers gives our graduates direct access to industry conversations and endorsements. This is brilliant in building the confidence and momentum for life beyond Higher Education in the creative sectors.' Associate Professor of Design & Course Leader Kate Farley, Norwich University of the Arts.

'New Designers has always been an excellent platform for graduating students to exhibit their work and gain confidence to pursue a career within the creative sector.' Mathew Brown - Course Leader, Ravensbourne University London
